

CIF Announces LKQ's Commitment to Annual Donor Program

MECHANICSVILLE, VA, March 10, 2026 – The Collision Industry Foundation (CIF) is thrilled to announce that LKQ has once again pledged its support to the CIF Annual Donor Program, at the FIRST RESPONDER level, which is the highest tier of giving. The Program, launched in 2021, was created to secure consistent and essential resources for the Foundation. These resources enable CIF to fulfill its mission of “Answering the Call” by assisting members of the collision repair industry affected by catastrophic events such as accidents, flooding, hurricanes, tornadoes, or wildfires. Contributions to the program are tax-deductible, offering an additional incentive for supporters.

Thanks to the generosity of corporations and individuals, over the past twenty-plus years CIF has helped hundreds of collision repair professionals after disasters. The continued support from LKQ for the Annual Donor Program will allow the Foundation to maintain its disaster relief efforts and extend assistance to those in the industry who need it most.

Don Smith, Sr. Director at Elitek Vehicles Services (an LKQ Company) shared: “We truly appreciate everything CIF does and the support they provide to people in our industry when they need it most. So, being a First Responder donor is just the right thing for us to do. It aligns with LKQ’s mission to ‘build strong partnerships with the communities in which we operate.”
